Denise King Appointed to Governor's Commission on Community Service

DENVER—Denver Metro Chamber Leadership Foundation Program Director Denise King was appointed to the Governor's Commission on Community Service \(Serve Colorado\) on Sept. 24.

The commission works to develop a comprehensive national and community service plan for the state. King will represent the business community on the commission. She has worked with the Leadership Foundation for six years, directing its 42-year-old flagship leadership program, Leadership Denver, as well as the collegiate-focused Colorado Leadership Alliance, young-professionals-focused Impact Denver and executive-focused Access Denver.

"I'm honored to be a part of this commission and bring my knowledge of the business community and share the Leadership Foundation's approach of collaborative, regional leadership and engagement," King said.

She will serve on the commission until Aug. 24, 2018.

"We're thrilled to have the Leadership Foundation represented on this commission and couldn't imagine a better fit than Denise," said Denver Metro Chamber Leadership Foundation Executive Director Dan Lewis. "She understands how and where business wants to engage and serve the community. Her knowledge and connections to business and leadership make her an invaluable member of this commission."
